It will be seen, then that during the 12 months ending September 30, 1891, the average rate of duty on dutable imports was 47 per cent, while on total imports, the honest way of reckoning, it was only 23 per cent.

The free trader is not only dishonest in his amount, but he uses a dishonest in his amount, but he uses a dishonest method in getting at it. He only computes the rates on dutiable imports. By this mode of reckoning Great Britain's average rate is nearly 100 per cent. Suppose our $800,000,000 worth of imports all came in duty free with the exception of $100,000 worth, upon which we collected $50,000 daty. Would our average rate of duty be 50 per cent?

The fact is, as nearly as we can calculate, that our present average rate is only 29 per cent.—less than at any time eince 1881. Incorporated Under the Laws of Ill. AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, - $50,000,000 MATURED SHARES, Jach, - - $100

WHY THEY DO IT.

A Long Disputed Question Solved at Last.

"How many people do you suppose really know why the retail dry goods stores knock off a penny or two from the price of articles worth the even dollars?" said a merchant recently. "Ninety-nine people of a hundred think it is because it makes the price look smaller when displayed on the goods, and consequently attracts trade. But, bless you, you can't fool the average woman shopper by such a transparent trick. The real object in dropping the penny and making the pri e of an article worth $2, $1.99 is to provided by legislation for the comfort and sup keep the shopper at the counter while waiting for the change. Three times out of five she will see something she wants before the change can be made and will buy it. The scheme pays 100 per sent on the investment, as has been proved

John Nicholle.

The Republican congressional comp see for this district meets at the St. Nich olas to-morrow to fix a time and place and also to fix a basis of representation to the convention. The old plan which has been followed for years has been fo each county to have the same represen ation in the congressional convention that it has in the state convention, which Republican candidate for President. If his plan is followed this year, the co tion, which has been increased by the state central committee 83 per cent ove This year, however, there is con iderable interest in the congressions shall have. This grows out of the fact that there are several candidates, and has led to the discussion of a proposition to change the representation from that esablished by the state central committee o the vote cast for Rowell in 1890, when he was defeated. His vote was as fol-

To Fight Fire Mueller manufacturing co. pany are placing in their factory on East Main street a stand-pipe two inches in dismeter, from the basement floor to the roof, which will be kept filled with water On each floor there will be attached to this pipe 50 feet of 14-inch hose, which can be readily reached and turned on in case of fire on any one floor. This is a great idea and the company will, in casfire, be able, by means of this arrange ment, to fight the blaze more effectually at the place from which the flames may have started.
